LIST OF ABBREVIATIONS

SAHPRA	South African Health Products Regulatory Authority
AR	Authorised Representative
SOP	Standard Operating Procedure
RCA	Root Cause Analysis
CAPA	Corrective action and preventative action

1. OBJECTIVE:

This SOP describes the process for handling technical quality complaints at ILCO Farming (Pty) Ltd, to ensure that complaints are investigated timeously and thoroughly and written records of such complaints with conclusive statements, are maintained.

2. SCOPE:

This SOP is relevant to all technical quality complaints received on all products produced by ILCO Farming (Pty) Ltd or received from contract-acceptor sites. It will be implemented by ILCO Farming (Pty) Ltd employees and contract-acceptor sites to ILCO Farming (Pty) Ltd.

3. RESPONSIBILITY:

Authorised Representative (AR)
Production/ Operations Manager
Stock Receiver
Stock Manager

4. POLICY:

4.1. All technical quality complaints received must be directed to the AR to handle.

4.2. In the absence of the AR, the deputy AR on duty together with a competent company employee must then attend to the complaint.

4.3. All attempts must be made to obtain the actual item(s) with a problem or at minimum a photograph of the problem product.

5. PROCEDURE:

5.1. The AR captures the complaint on the Technical Quality Complaints Report Form (TQCRF). Refer to Attachment 6.3.

5.2. The following information must be obtained and recorded on the TQCRF:

5.2.1. Complainant's name, address, telephone number and e-mail address.

- Product name and strength
- Pack Size and Type
- Batch number
- Expiry date
- Is a sample available or not?
- Comprehensive description of the Complaint

5.3. Where possible, the product in question must be uplifted from the complainant and returned to the premises for inspection by the AR. Failing this, clear photographs must be sent to ILCO Farming (Pty) Ltd for review.

5.4. The AR at ILCO Farming (Pty) Ltd will initiate a TQCRF and assign a unique tracking number to each complaint. The AR will enter this number and the date the complaint is received, on the TQCRF.

5.5. Any units of the same product that are still on site, should be placed in quarantine while the investigation takes place.

5.6. Supporting documents and a retention sample, where applicable, must then be retrieved by ILCO Farming (Pty) Ltd in order to perform a thorough root cause analysis investigation.

5.7. Comprehensive details of the RCA Investigation must be documented on the TQCRF. If any part of the product is supplied by or processed by a third-party contract site, the AR will contact this site and discuss the details of the complaint with this site.

- 5.8. A conclusion from the RCA Investigation must be included on the TQCRF. Include details of the root cause, such as the department /contract site or process or equipment or labelling, that caused the technical quality complaint.
- 5.9. If a serious event is concluded and if the AR deems it necessary according to the SAHPRA Guidelines on recall requirements, details of the complaint must be forwarded to SAHPRA.
- 5.10. All actions suggested by SAHPRA must be recorded and actioned within the required timelines.
- 5.11. Corrective actions proposed by ILCO Farming (Pty) Ltd following their investigation, need to be documented on the Technical Quality Complaints Form. Where this corrective action is required to be applied to additional batches of the same product, or to changes of master documentation or changes in processes or equipment, a CAPA will be required. This decision must be recorded on the TQCRF. The CAPA SOP will then be initiated by the AR where required.
- 5.12. The Complaints File must be reviewed on a regular basis, not less than quarterly, to assess any products with regular or continuing complaints. Should the product complaint show a trend to repeat a specific problem, follow-up investigation and action must be taken and the possible cause of the problem be rectified as efficiently as possible. This must be documented on the Technical Quality Complaints Form.
- 5.13. A formal letter of acknowledgement confirming the details of the complaint and the action that has been taken by ILCO Farming (Pty) Ltd to resolve the matter must be sent to the complainant.
- 5.14. The AR must review all documentation and decide whether the complaint has been successfully concluded. When it is, the AR will record this on the TQCRF, sign and date it.
- 5.15. All documentation and correspondence must be kept in a Complaints File or electronic register in a secure place or manner, for future reference.

- inform the customer of the unique complaint number by telephone and via e-mail and request the customer to place any stock in the warehouse, under a blocked / quarantine status.
- inform the Regulatory Compliance Directorate at SAHPRA by phone call and e-mail. Refer to Attachment 6.3
- request the responsible representative of international distributors to share information with their regulatory authority in their country.
- remove any units of the batch of product under investigation, from the Finished Product Storage area, label them with a Quarantine Sticker and place them in the Secondary Quarantine Storage area, in a segregated area labelled Product under Recall Investigation.
- contact any other customer who received stock from this same batch of product and include this customer in all recall activities.
- compile recall information into the SAHPRA Initial Report document – refer to Attachment 6.4

5.1.5 The AR will initiate a Technical Quality Complaints Request Form and enter known data.

5.1.6 The AR will retrieve the relevant retention sample from storage, inspect the sample and send to the laboratory for additional testing if required, dependent on the findings during the root cause analysis investigation.

5.2 On receipt of any re-test results, the AR will inform the customer that following his investigation and the retest results where applicable, on the product and batch concerned, either:

5.2.1 The AR is satisfied the customer's specification as set out on the order has been met or

5.2.2 Failed to meet specifications as set out in the order and will inform the customer of the particulars of the tests failed.

5.3 In the event that the batch concerned is found compliant, the customer will be informed that there is no valid complaint, no requirement for a recall and the complaint file will be closed.

5.4 In the event that the product fails specifications, the AR will inform the international customer that the entire batch must either be shipped back to ILCO Farming (Pty) Ltd. or alternatively destroyed in accordance with destruction protocols in the customer's country. If the customer elects to destroy the batch, a certificate of destruction must be furnished to ILCO Farming (Pty) Ltd.

5.5 The AR will compile a Recall Letter and share it with SAHPRA for their review and approval. The content and format of the recall letter is as follows:

At two weeks after the implementation of the recall (or at other agreed times) the AR will provide the SAHPRA with an interim report on the effectiveness of the recall and within 30 days of the recall having been instituted the SAHPRA shall be furnished with a final recall report – Refer to Attachment 6.5.

5.7.1 These reports may include but not limited to the following:

- Details on the investigation into the cause of the defect.
- The corrective actions proposed/implemented and the dates of implementation to prevent a recurrence of the problem.
- The extent of distribution of the relevant batch in South Africa as well as to the international market.
- The success of the recall i.e. quantity of stock returned, corrected, outstanding, etc.
- Confirmation, where applicable, (e.g. hospitals, pharmacists, doctors, customers, other international regulatory authorities / holder of distribution authorization in the foreign country) that the recall letter was received.
- The method of destruction or disposal of the recalled goods.

5.8 Follow - Up action activities consist of the following:

- An evaluation on the effectiveness of the recall and an investigation of the reason for the recall and corrective actions taken to prevent a recurrence of the problem.
- The Medicines Control Officer shall evaluate the reports received from the recalling site and an assessment made of the effectiveness of the recall action
- On completion of a recall or during the process of a recall, the recalling site is requested to provide details of the corrective actions and timelines proposed to prevent a recurrence of the problem which gave rise to the recall.
- Where the nature of the problem and appropriate corrective actions are not apparent, investigation and in some cases Good Manufacturing Practice audits may be necessary.
- Apparent follow-up actions will be taken by the SAHPRA or Inspectorate and Regulatory Compliance directorate of SAHPRA. This might include appropriate action instituted by the SAHPRA bases on the outcome of the review of the applicable product.
- Once the recall has been handled satisfactory, the SAHPRA will determine closure of the recall.

5.9 All copies of communication and records of a recall or withdrawal must be filed and kept for a minimum of 5 years or for the retention of documentation period at ILCO Farming (Pty) Ltd.
